

PARENTS' CORNER

Last year, I came to Dhanbad due to job shift, after a stay of nearly 25 years in Hyderabad. My higher education was done in Hyderabad- the education hub of India. My challenge when I came to Dhanbad was finding a school which works for the holistic development of the kids. I tried enquiring in my friend circle until I found Dhanbad Public School, and after the interaction with Mrs Sharda Mahajan, the Principal of the school, I finalised to admit my kids. As a parent, I believe that the job of any school is not just giving bookish knowledge in a closed room, but most importantly the matter is the overall development of children in terms of art, culture, communication and health. Wishing the school to achieve greater heights with its motto of providing best learning experience for all.

I didn't have much choice when I started my search for a school for my younger son when I joined IIT (ISM) Dhanbad as a faculty and shifted my family from Ranchi. Dhanbad Public School, Bhuipore allowed my son to get lateral admission in Class 9th after a successive selection procedure. Since then, we never turned back. My son could discover an interest in various activities like programming, sketching, technical model making, etc. He became more socially confident and improved his communication skills. Unfortunately, due to COVID, classes were through online mode. However, the teachers put their best efforts to keep my son engaged and motivated. Myself, being a teacher at IIT (ISM) Dhanbad could appreciate the innovative efforts put in by the teachers, which were much more difficult than regular ways of teaching. Teachers took pain to learn new digital technologies and improved to such an extent that they delivered extensively to keep up with the pace of evolving demands of modern teaching. At times, I too have learned the way school teachers teach their subjects. With efficient leadership of the administration and school principal, students perform not just in academics, but also in diverse domains like Yoga, Music, and Sports. I wish the school comes up as one of the most sought after school in terms of the values that they impart to our kids.

PARENTS' CORNER

My relationship with this school started in 1997 with the admission of my niece and still continues with my elder son in class 8 and younger one in L.KG.

What I like about the school is its infrastructure; the playground, swimming pool and a lot of open space. In the context of studies, this school has faculty with great knowledge and teaching skills. For the Montessori wing, I would like to congratulate the administration that they have done a tremendous job by minimising the books and notebooks via a well-planned daily worksheets and activities. In the higher classes the dedicated teachers keep guiding children not only in their studies, but also for the all-round development of the children by conducting lots of activities and events. Moreover, the faculty and administration also remain in touch with parents constantly and keep updating parents about their child's progress, which is also a commendable thing. The school has set a precedent during COVID period via online teaching and examination. It also helped me while planning online teaching and examination of my Railway Training Institute as I implemented almost all of its methods. At last, I want to add, "School is a building which has four walls with tomorrow inside" and Dhanbad Public School has proven it right in every aspect.

Dhanbad Public School, Montessori Wing provides good infrastructure i.e. play zone and classrooms for the students. The school conducts various activities and events such as Science Exhibition, Fancy Dress, etc which gives opportunities to the students to participate and develop self-confidence. We have seen lots of good changes in our daughter studying in Dhanbad Public School.

The way of teaching and sharing our ward's daily activity in school via whatsapp group is really appreciable. School teachers and staff are very cooperative and easily approachable.

Moreover, in comparison to the quality of service provided, the fee charged by the school is genuine when compared to the other schools. Most importantly, the trustee and school management are always proactive for the students growth in academic as well as co-curricular activities.
